

HAVE YOU EVER ASKED...

1

What happens to our ministry property if our liability insurance coverage is too small to cover a large jury award?

The Plaintiff can legally seize the church's movable property and bank accounts and hold an auction to sell the church real property to the highest bidder.

2

Does our ministry have the right risk management tools to protect against aggressive plaintiffs

Probably not. Few ministries have conducted a thorough risk management review and even fewer have a sufficient legal structure to protect the church campus.

Does our ministry have a current employee manual?

According to the President/CEO of GuideOne Insurance, "one of the most alarming trends – and it's been well publicized by the media – is a soaring number of lawsuits against churches in America. One area where we're seeing more lawsuits is in employment related claims, such as wrongful termination or discrimination complaints filed by former employees of the church."

Streetlight-USA

“It has been my pleasure to work with Bob Brown over the years of our relationship. The ministry of which I am the leader has been the recipient of Bob's wisdom in legal matters for our organization and his kindness toward us in his generous help. Bob is a professional at his job as an attorney but has been able to present himself in a manner that we feel he is a backer and friend of our organization. We are glad to have Bob as a partner and friend of our ministry.”

Pastor Steve Harris, Superintendent
Arizona District Council of the Assemblies of God
